Barrier Game Guidance

Barrier games are a fun way to develop children's speaking and listening skills. They can also be used to explore prepositions and positional language.

These barrier games are designed for two players. Each player has a background scene and a set of picture cards. The two players sit opposite each other. A barrier is then placed between the two children (such as a book) so they are unable to see the other child's picture.

1. Player A puts a picture card on the background scene and then gives verbal instructions to player B, for example: Put the tractor on the road.
2. Player B listens, and then responds to the instruction by putting their matching card in the position described to them on their background scene.
3. Steps 1-2 are then repeated until both players have put all their picture cards on the background scene.
4. At the end of the game the barrier is removed and children compare their pictures. The children can then discuss why their pictures do or don't look the same.

The players could then swap roles and play the game again.

Paper Plate Sun

Supplies

- Yellow and orange tissue paper, cut up into squares
- Yellow wool or ribbon
- Yellow paper
- One paper plate
- PVA glue
- Sticky tape
- Ruler

- Scissors
- Pencil

- 1 Spread PVA glue thinly all over the paper plate. Then cover the centre of the plate with the squares of orange tissue paper.

- 2 Continue to build up layers of tissue paper, working from the middle out, sticking them down with glue. Also stick lighter shades of orange, then yellow to make a gradual change to yellow.

- 3 Place the yellow paper landscape, then use a ruler and pencil to draw lines going horizontally along it. Draw the lines from the top to the bottom of the paper, using the width of the ruler to separate each line.

- 4 Using scissors, cut along each line; this should leave you with strips of card a ruler width in thickness.

- 5 Make a loop out of each yellow strip by gluing the ends together.

- 6 Using sticky tape or glue, stick the loops of yellow paper at equal distances around the edge of the paper plate.

- 7 Use a hole punch to make a hole at the edge of the bowl, between two loops.

- 8 Thread a loop of yellow ribbon or wool through the hole and tie so that the sunshine can be hung.
