

Medical Advice on looking after your child should they become unwell.

This online resource provides parents with medical advice on how to look after their child should they become unwell this winter and in particular where they should go to access services, as well as advice on attending school.

My child is unwell – should they go to school today?

<http://www.what0-18.nhs.uk/parents-and-carers/worried-your-child-unwell/>

Get up-to-date medical advice on how to look after your child this winter, should they become unwell, and where you should go to access services.

To help decide if and when your child should remain off school, a simple guide has been produced for a number of the most common illnesses, which can be found at:

<http://www.what0-18.nhs.uk/parents-and-carers/should-your-child-go-school-today/>

Alternatively, see the attached flyer, which you may wish to keep for easy reference.

